

“Starting August 1, our Terminal A gates will be renumbered.”

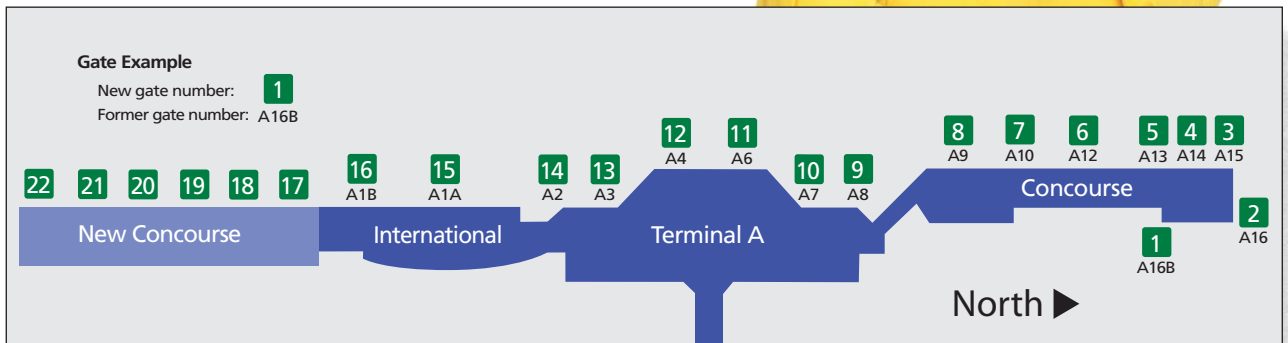

With the opening of six gates in the new concourse, all gates in Terminal A are being renumbered from north to south.

Gate 1 will now be at the far north end of the terminal (to the right as you face the airfield). This was formerly Gate A16B. Gate 16 will now be at the south end of Terminal A (formerly A1B).

Airlines will continue to operate from their current gate locations; only the gate numbers will change.

Southwest now occupies gates 17-22 in the new concourse. Passengers still check in at Terminal A.

If you'd like more details, go to flysanjose.com and click on The New Airport logo.